EXPERIENCE @ WORK

In business since 1985, Connectis provides IT Professional Services and technologies to help companies choked with large volumes of documents, faxes, structured and unstructured forms, invoices, purchase orders, databases and complex processes. These transactional documents must be electronically read, stored, moved around, retrieved, faxed in & out and the key data must integrate with critical office and back-end ERP and CRM systems.

Our clients run their businesses more efficiently with a lower total cost of operations by reducing the manual burden of transaction processing, preparing and delivering volumes of paper and electronic documents, data, forms and faxes while measurably increasing revenue in their business processes.

We’ll advise you on economical strategies to leverage the huge investment you’ve made in your critical office, ERP or CRM systems, then implement the most cost effective solution to ...

Improving productivity, shareholder value & satisfaction!
