Re: Cyber Security Assessment Services from Connectis Group

To Whom It May Concern:

Marathon Watch Company is a Canadian owned and run manufacturer of high quality, Swiss engineered horological instruments. We work with a global clientele including government, military, retailers and others who require precision instruments.

Due to Marathon's client compliance obligations and business growth, we felt it was necessary to ensure that our network infrastructure could not be easily breached. We met with the staff at Connectis Group and decided to engage their services to provide a Cyber Security Assessment of our infrastructure. We have a multitude of confidential data residing in our servers and its very important to our continued sustainability to ensure everything is secure.

Connectis recently completed Risk and Vulnerability Assessments for us. This included Credential and Non-Credential network security testing and they provided us with a report of findings about the weak points in our computer network defenses, the hidden back doors and outdated locks. As well, they identified and classified our network security issues, provided documentation of assessment procedures, analysis and recommendations. Within the recommendations, they also advised how our current IT Staff can repair the issues.

My staff worked closely with Niyaz Sheikh, Connectis' VP of Security Services, to both collect the information and present the detailed findings to our team. Connectis was thorough and available for questions and will provide a revalidation once we've completed our repairs. We have followed the recommendation made by Niyaz, which was to perform a quarterly assessment moving forward, to ensure we are protected. I found the Connectis team to be responsive, accurate and supportive and intend to work with them going forward. I recommend them to others needing Cyber Security Services.
