Subject: Reference – Connectis Cyber Security

To Whom It May Concern:

In 2019, our company engaged Connectis Group to provide us with cybersecurity assessment service to analyze our internal infrastructure network, web apps, servers, fire walls, end points and devices for vulnerabilities.

Initially, based on volume of external threats constantly bombarding us in the media, I had internal discussions with my team regarding our networks' potential exposures. After speaking with Connectis Group, we were convinced this was a worthwhile exercise and needed to be undertaken.

After my initial discussion with Connectis, they sent me their Non-Disclosure Agreement for my protection and an overview of the services, which was fine, next we picked a date and time for the Connectis expert, Niyaz Sheikh to start the work.

In my case, Niyaz arrived on site, introduced himself, had asked a series of questions and answered mine. I provided him with the list of our IP addresses and he quietly did his work at one of our desks, then after several hours of investigation, he left our office.

Several days later, Niyaz emailed me the 360-degree Cyber Security Assessment document which included in-depth insight on the current status of network security state in what was an easy to read format outlining the real vulnerabilities based on severity and risk along with recommendations on how to fix the issues. This is exactly what I needed, so I can tighten up our network.

Connectis' work was fast, to the point, clearly presented their value proposition and I believe accurate. I found Niyaz to be a skilled, thoughtful, and thorough professional security expert. I'd recommend their services and hire them again should the need arise.

Sincerely
